

55 THOMPSON RECEIVES FIRST RESIDENTS

Move-Ins Begin at New NYC SoHo Apartments Luxury Loft Rental Building

New York, New York (November 23, 2010) – The first leases have officially begun at 55 Thompson Street, as eager new residents move in to the beautifully crafted one-, two-, and three-bedroom homes at the new luxurious apartment rental building located in the heart of SoHo, at the corner of Thompson and Broome Streets. The charming, 38-unit residence is now 50% leased since its opening in the beginning of September.

“We are very excited to welcome the first residents to 55 Thompson,” said Laurie Zucker, a principal of Manhattan Skyline, the building’s developer. “Our tenants love the intimate scale of the boutique style building, paired with its expansive homes, and high-end finishes usually only found in condo buildings. They will further enjoy a lifestyle of comfort with all of the conveniences of a full-service apartment rental building in one of Manhattan’s most exciting and desirable neighborhoods.”

Stylish SoHo Apartments: Indoor Luxury Framed by Views of New York

Designed to reflect the low-rise, European character of SoHo by the Stephen B. Jacobs Group, the lofty homes feature solid limed white-oak flooring, 10-foot ceilings, large rooms, abundant closets and room-sized windows. In addition to the spectacular cityscapes visible from these homes, select units are equipped with gas fireplaces, private balconies and wrap-around terraces ranging from 1,600 to 3,350 square feet. Sky-lit penthouses dazzle in the sun.

Stylish kitchens feature custom limed-oak cabinetry with inset doors, rainforest stone countertops with polished glass-tile backsplashes. “Top-of-the-line” appliances include a Sub-Zero refrigerator, a Bertazzoni gas range and Bosch dishwasher. Marble and tile Master Baths boast enormous dual-sink vanities, Toto dual-flush water closets, separate frameless glass shower stalls and relaxing soaking tubs to sit back and gaze out at the Empire State Building and beyond. Additionally, all are equipped with a fully-vented washer and dryer.

Unique SoHo Apartments in New York

These outstanding SoHo residences are complimented by a 24-hour onsite concierge and resident manager, a fully equipped fitness center, two beautifully landscaped private terraces providing 3,350 square feet at the second floor and 1,600 square feet at the rooftop with spectacular views, and Manhattan Skyline's exclusive “Sky’s The Limit” concierge service by Abigail Michaels, “Where if you can dream it, we can make it happen.”

Once home to the City’s first indoor garage (circa 1920), the site now boasts a beautiful curved structure, with 38 units and a three-story, family-sized and full service townhouse with a private Sullivan Street entry. A terra cotta medallion of a Model T Ford that had once graced the front of the garage now crowns the nine-story SoHo apartment building -- as an homage to the past.
